OVERVIEW

Jim Boomer is the CEO of Boomer Consulting, Inc., where he helps CPA firm leaders align strategy, technology, and talent to build high-performing, future-ready firms. A respected speaker and facilitator, Jim leads the Boomer Circle communities and speaks regularly at national conferences, including AICPA ENGAGE. Known for his calm presence and strategic mindset, he's consistently recognized as one of Accounting Today's Top 100 Most Influential People and IPA's Most Recommended Consultants.

KOLBE

Jim Boomer is a highly practical thinker who is willing to try new ideas but is careful to count the cost ahead of time. Though he is an innovator who enjoys promoting alternatives, Jim reviews all relevant evidence and abides by established processes. His creativity and imagination permit him to turn abstract ideas into reliable solutions.

UNIQUE ABILITIES

Jim might rightly be categorized as a diplomat. He allows for and entertains different positions, paying close attention to what others say while offering his own point of view with kindness. He is a quick learner who is adept at simplifying complex issues to devise solutions and works to keep team members communicating effectively. Jim is also a business tactician with keen oversight of technology's impact on the company.
